

Website Posting Announcement

Title: Assistant Professor of Psychology

Reports to: Division of Social Sciences

Post Date: November 17, 2009

The position will remain open until filled, and screening of applications will begin immediately. The position will be available immediately.

Description:

Philander Smith College's Division of Social Sciences is seeking an Assistant Professor in Psychology for the academic year 2010-2011. The successful candidate will be expected to teach psychology courses in a baccalaureate degree program, which includes, but not limited to: General Psychology, Developmental Psychology, Social Psychology, and Theories in Personality. In addition, candidates will be asked to participate in: student advising, serving on faculty committees, engaging in community service, and the development of the department website.

Qualifications:

PhD in History is highly desirable, ABD will be considered; in addition, demonstrable sensitivity to a diverse academic community as well as evidence of scholarship and some knowledge of teaching techniques and learning styles. Salary will be based on qualification and is competitive.

Application:

Interested candidates should send the following items:

- Letter of interest
- Curriculum vita
- Three (3) letters of reference
- Appropriate transcripts

To: Philander Smith College, Office of Human Resources, 900 Daisy Bates Drive, Little Rock, AR 72202, or via email to: HumanResources@philander.edu.

Only those applicants that meet the minimum requirements will be considered.

No phone calls, please.

Philander Smith College is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate applicants or employees based on their age, race, sex, national origin, ethnicity, veteran status or religion. Philander Smith College is a smoke-free and drug-free work environment. Philander Smith College participates in E-Verify.